Hickory Corner School District 27 to Vote on Educational Tax Hike

Election Sat. Afternoon Gets No Criticism of Civic League

Residents of Hickory Corners Grade School District 27 will vote Saturday afternoon on a proposal to increase the educational tax from the minimum of 50 cents to 71 cents on the assessed valuation.

Voting will be at the one-room school building north of the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 45 from noon to 7 p. m.

The Lake County Civic League, with its usual request that voters get out and vote, had little comment to make other than to say that the increase in tax would amount to about $21 on a valuation of $10,000.

"Approval of the rate increase would mean an additional $1,800 revenue, permitting the district to regain a pay-as-you-go basis rather than resorting to additional deficit financing," Bruce Trester, executive secretary of the Civic League said.

Marvin E. Van Patten, president of the board, said the present tax rate brings in about $4,320.07, and the proposed rate would bring in an estimated $6,134.51, or $1,814.44 more, which is about the same as the figure put out by the Civic League.

President Van Patten said that increased costs made necessary anticipation warrants of $500 this year, and the coming year appeared no brighter as far as costs are concerned.

Bemis does contracting for carpentering from his home and Glenn has a well that supplies the neighborhood with water on a contract basis. The lots in question are west of the bait shop and Dupre motel. No opposition is expected.

Father Saves Daughter But Drowns at South Shore of Camp Lake

Antioch Rescue Squad Unable to Revive Rolla Fosnock, aged 31

The Antioch Rescue squad was unsuccessful Sunday evening in its attempt to revive a Camp Lake man who saved his little girl from drowning, but who lost his life.

The victim was Rolla Fosnock, 31, R. F. D. 1, Trevor, Wis., who held his daughter, Vicki Lynn, 5, afloat before going under.

Four Chicagoans in another boat saw Fosnock's boat overturn a quarter of a mile off the south shore of the lake.

They rushed to the scene, and on their first dive came up with the girl. They placed her atop the overturned boat and then turned her over to Walter Nowaczynski, another fisherman, while they continued the search for Fosnock.

Nowaczynski took the girl to shore, meanwhile placing her over his knee so that he could give her artificial respiration with one hand.

It took longer to find Fosnock and he was in the water probably three minutes. They took him to Sandy's resort and tried to revive him.

In the meantime, the Antioch Rescue squad was called and it worked over Fosnock for 45 minutes without success. A Silver Lake physician finally pronounced him dead.

The four Chicagoans were Bruce Pierson, Gerald Mendok, E. Lamnersfield, and M. Lamnersfield, deputies reported.

Enrollment of 400 in Swimming Classes

The number of those who have enrolled for swimming lessons at the Aqua Center reached the 400 mark today.

Manager Warren Polley said that the instruction under Red Cross trained personnel is progressing well. The weather hasn't been too good.

The laboratory report on samples of water taken from the pool show that the water is pure and excellent for swimming. Samples were taken at a time when the pool was crowded and a strong wind, which can blow dust into the water, was noticed, yet the bacteriological quality was good.

Marie Kilberger, 83 Dies of Heart Ailment Interment in Chicago

Marie Kilberger, 83 years old, of 6th avenue, California Subdivision, died in her home Friday, June 21, of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Kilberger was born in Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, and came to this country in 1926. She settled in Berwyn, Ill., where she resided until moving to Antioch a year and a half ago.

She is preceded in death by her husband, Joseph, who died in 1946. Her survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Brozik of Antioch, and one grandson.

Services at 11 a. m. and burial were held Tuesday at the Bohemian National cemetery chapel in Chicago.

Bristol Band to Play At Antioch July 4th Evening Celebration

Concert at 8 p. m., Fireworks Display at 9 p. m. at Sequoit Acres

The Bristol community band has been engaged to play a concert at Sequoit Acres before the fireworks is displayed the evening of the 4th. The Antioch band was not re-organized this summer and the neighboring Wisconsin organization was obtained.

The Star Fireworks Co. of Danville, Ill., will send a specialist here to set off the fireworks purchased by the Antioch Fire Department from that company. Start of the firing is set for 8 p. m.

The exhibition will be arranged much the same as last year. The firemen, rescue squad, and policemen will manage traffic and the parking area, entrance to which will be from Ida ave.

The police will not permit anyone to be on the right of way of the Soo Line while the program is in progress. The sponsors of the event want to prevent any such tragedy that occurred last year at Fox Lake when spectators, seated on the Milwaukee Road tracks were struck and killed or injured by a train.

Here there was no trouble of this sort, and the crowd was handled so skillfully that the parking lot was emptied in a very short time.

The firemen let it be known that Antioch merchants contributed heavily to the fund for the purchase of fireworks.

Lake Villa to Seek Bids on New Plans For Sewage System

The Lake Villa Village Board Tuesday approved new plans and specifications for the village's long awaited new sewage disposal system.

They were submitted by the engineering firm of DeJong-Middaugh Associates, Rockford, Ill., and bore an estimated cost of $217,000.

The new plans call for the sewers to run under alleys instead of streets, which was called for in the old plans prepared by Engineer Jas. Anderson, President Erwin Barnstable said.

Anderson had estimated the plant would cost $112,250, and the sewer lines another $100,190, but the lowest bid exceeded this total amount of $212,489.70 by $115,000.

Because they were too high, all of the bids submitted May 6 were rejected.

G. E. DeJong was then hired as the new engineer, consultant in place of Anderson.

If the plans are approved by the State Sanitary Water Board, new bids will be sought for opening on July 19.

Efforts to get the sewer date back to Feb. 10, 1948 when the community voted a $64,000 bond issue. On July 19, 1956 another bond issue of $55,000 was approved to provide more money. A federal grant of $30,420 also has been obtained.

Antioch A & P Store Wins District Honor

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. store in Antioch won the Honor Store Award for the district which includes 28 supermarkets in Lake county and parts of Cook and McHenry counties.

Top recognition was given the local store after it was judged several times a week for 13 weeks for service, courtesy, store appearance, efficiency of operation, and cleanliness by top management from the Chicago offices.

A. F. Kaiser is the store manager, and he is assisted by Harold Piehl.

"Delinquent Tax Collection an Effort Toward Fairness," -- Civic League

The effort to collect delinquent taxes is not an endorsement of the laws relating to personal property taxation, but an effort toward fairness and equity, so that the person who pays his tax will not be penalized by another who attempts to evade payment.

This is the opinion of the Lake County Civic League as stated in a letter to the Antioch News by James A. Rust, Waukegan, director of the league.

"The League holds no brief for personal property taxes as such," said Rust. "We fully realize that this method of taxation needs to be revised in order to eliminate such things as taxation on household furnishings and to permit the taxation of intangibles (stocks, bonds, bank accounts, etc., on a realistic taxation on intangibles is confiscatory and hence is evaded in large part."

Rust said that the method of assessing must be changed by a statewide referendum, but that in the meantime personal property taxes must be collected of everyone.

"The fact that a few refuse to pay means that both real estate taxes and personal property taxes are higher than if everyone were helping carry the load," Rust said.

The drive to collect delinquent personal property tax was started six years ago by the Civic League and the Lake County Farm Bureau.

"Rather than criticize our officials for carrying out an unpleasant task, they should have the full support of citizens and groups who are interested in good government. Both State's Atty. Thomas Moran and County Treasurer Guy O. Lunn made promises in their campaigns to collect the tax and have the backing of the Board of supervisors and most of the justices of the peace and constables.

Burlington Hospital Fund at One-Third Mark; Report Today

Burlington, Wis.—Memorial hospital's Expansion Fund campaign to increase the size of the Burlington institution passed the one-third mark last week with a total of $191,081 pledged on the $575,000 goal.

Memorials, the gift of an amount that will buy a specific item of equipment or room listed in the campaign literature, are "going fast," Chairman Murphy said. He added that a "memorial wall" has been established to offer an opportunity to almost all givers to perpetuate the memory of a loved one or to mark their own support of the hospital.

All persons whose gift is $300 a year or more (the figure fixed for the least expensive Memorials) will have a plaque fastened to the Memorial Wall in the Outpatient Department, if they request it at the time they make their gift. He added this step was taken as almost all of the $300 and other Memorials in that price range had already been reserved.

The campaign's third report luncheon is scheduled for today, at St. Mary's school in Burlington.

Edward J. Dompke, 58 years old, died June 23rd at 9:50 a. m. in Victory Memorial hospital. He had been ill since June 9th of a heart ailment.

Dompke, a retired resort owner, moved to Morley's Subdivision, Antioch, from Chicago 12 years ago. He was a member of St. Peter's church and the Elks Lodge No. 702.

He is survived by his wife, Josephine, two brothers, Bernard and John of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Fiehler and Mrs. Marie Klein, both of Chicago. He is preceded in death by four brothers and one sister.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 11 a. m., at St. Peter's church. Burial will take place at Mt. Carmel cemetery in Antioch.

TAX DEADLINE SATURDAY

Only two days left in which to pay delinquent personal property tax without penalty. On and after July 1 delinquent taxes call for extra penalties and court costs.

Two Streets Paved, Storm Sewer is Laid, Water Tower Painted

Antioch Gets 3 Improvements All in One Week, Without Trouble

New street surfacing, a new storm sewer, and a newly painted water tower were improvements for Antioch this week.

Broadway and Orchard st. from Broadway to Main st. were given blacktop coatings by Peter Baker and Sons Co. and the streets are now in excellent condition.

While the improvement was made, a new 12-inch storm sewer main was laid from Broadway to Turner drive where it turns north and empties into Sequoit creek. The sewer replaced a 6-inch pipe which was inadequate.

At advantageous points other catch basins were installed to catch the surface water.

While this was in progress, the John H. Greenlee-Elevated Tank Service of Cherry Valley, Ill., cleaned and painted the water tower on Broadway. The tank was emptied while the work was in progress and the workmen are said to have discovered that the interior doesn't need painting, which will save the village a few hundred dollars.

Just the power of the pumps was used to supply the village with water while the work was done, and as the result residents of Oakwood Knolls had very low pressure.

With the work on the tower completed today, it will be refilled and regular pressure will be restored by tomorrow.

Because there was but light wind, it was not necessary Monday and Tuesday to ban parking at any great distance to prevent cars being splashed with wind-blown paint. Broadway was closed off for the paving anyway, and the two jobs fitted together nicely.

Grade School Board Studies Many Bids On Proposed Building

Although they studied the bids of contractors through two evening sessions, members of the Antioch Grade School Board came to no decision last evening on the letting of the contracts for the new 16-room school building at Leon lake and Deep lake roads.

The bids were opened Tuesday evening and Supt. Richard Whitacre said that it was observed that building costs have gone up considerably, based on the estimate at the time the $394,000 bond issue was planned.

There were seven bids on the general contract, 11 on plumbing, 12 on heating and ventilating, and 5 on electrical.

The Board and architect spent most of both evenings studying alternate bids in effort to see how much could be obtained for the money allowed.

No announcement was made as to the low bidders or range of bids, but indications were that the Board would get a building out of the bids.

Surviving him are his two sons, Robert, of Riverside, Ill., and Gerald, of Rockford, his brother, George, of Burlington, Wis., and his sister, Mrs. Theresa Lewis, of Antioch. He is preceded in death by his wife, Iris, and a daughter, Ada, who died at the age of 14.

Economic Highlights

It is one thing to talk about the need for cutting the federal budget—and a very different thing indeed to present a specific program for doing so. The budget is an extraordinarily complex affair, and few people have the background of knowledge necessary to make a detailed and intelligent analysis of what can and cannot be done to reduce it.

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire has now offered that kind of analysis. He begins with praise of the President for his budgets of 53-54-55, which reversed "... the run-away spending of the Truman Administration." The current budget, however, struck him very differently. It seemed "... illogical that at an all-time high in prosperity, an all-time high in employment, and with Federal income from taxation at an all-time high, that the budget should be in such a precarious balance and that the cost of government should be absorbing such a large proportion of the profits of our labors." It was in this spirit that he made an intensive study to see how the budget may be cut "... without in any way weakening our defense posture or without disrupting vital services."

Senator Bridges' program calls for reducing the President's $71.8 billion budget by a minimum of $3.3 billion. Here, in brief summary, is how he would go about that.

First of all, he points out that a percentage cut across the board, as some have advocated, is impossible because "... $11.9 billion are in the nature of sacred obligations which must be met regardless of anything." These include interest on the public debt, and various pension, retirement and other fixed obligations.

In the area of appropriations for such items as the commodity credit corporation, the agricultural conservation program, and grants to the states he feels that $500 million can be cut.

Next he recommends that the public works be cut back to the 1956 level of spending, which would save $575 million without affecting the federal highway or the federal airways program.

The defense budget—proposed at $38 billion by the President—is by far the biggest of all. Senator Bridges thinks that a fairly modest cut should be made here—$750 million initially, and perhaps raising to $1 billion later.

He points out that if the foreign aid budget is reduced by the same percentage that has been applied to requests during the last four years, the 1958 saving will be $950 million. He also feels that an additional $250 million can now be pared without damage.

Finally, he is confident—from 21 years experience on the Appropriations Committee—that at least $300 million can be saved in miscellaneous cuts.

It will come as a surprise to many to learn that actual cuts—some agreed to by the Executive branch—of $2.33 billion now are in sight. That is more than two-thirds of the way towards Senator Bridges' goal of $3.3 billion. He concludes: "Now is the time for everyone to redouble his efforts to be sure that the budget cutting victory is won. The secure future of this nation demands it."

The Proposed 23rd Amendment

A proposed 23rd amendment to the Constitution of the United States, known as the Gwinn amendment, consists of one clear sentence: "The government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial, or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

The possibilities within that simple statement of principle are literally enormous.

The government has billions upon billions of dollars invested in business enterprises of many kinds, all of which are performing functions that can and should be handled by private enterprise. These socialized businesses could be sold, and the money used to reduce the national debt, or to cut taxes, or both.

But that is only the beginning. Government business enterprises are tax-free, in an age in which private business corporations pay up to 52 per cent of all their profits in federal taxes alone. On top of that, it is common for government business enterprises to operate at a loss, which means that they must be subsidized by all the taxpayers. Once they were sold to private enterprise, the subsidies would end and they would become major taxpayers. The gain to the nation over the years would run into tens of billions.

One big reason for the government's financial plight today is that it has gone far beyond Constitutional provisions, and into fields where it does not belong and where its presence is wasteful and destructive. This is not just a matter of economics—super-government is the greatest enemy of human freedom that exists. The proposed amendment would give us the kind of government envisaged by the founders.

Where Will $94 Billion Come From?

In an interview appearing in U. S. News and World Report, Secretary of the Interior Seaton effectively defends this Administration's concept of "partnership" electric power development—under which the federal government, local government and local bodies, and private enterprise all cooperate to bring needed projects into being.

The Secretary said that we will need an investment of $94 billion in power facilities in the next 20 years, and that Congress just can't be expected to appropriate that kind of money for the purpose. This observation is especially relevant today, in the light of the overwhelming demand for economy in government, and a growing sentiment in favor of getting government out of activities which can be undertaken by taxpaying, self-supporting private enterprise.

Mr. Seaton also said that opposition to partnership is largely a result of misunderstanding, and that "alleged and actual offenses on the part of private utilities had something to do" with that.

Those who feel this way should think the matter over again. If private utilities or any other private enterprises get out of line, the law can move to correct matters and it has done that time and time again. We can and do take care of private monopolies, either by forbidding them altogether or regulating them where local, limited monopolies are necessary to good and economical public service. But a political monopoly—such as the socialized power groups want—is beyond effective control. It feeds and fattens—at the expense of the liberties of the people, as well as of their pocketbooks.

Bennie Feldman were also guests. Mrs. Jennie Haake visits Arvid Arvidson twice a week at Hines hospital. He would appreciate cards from friends at Deep Lake. Mr and Mrs. Frank Luehr observed their 35th wedding anniversary Monday June 24. Ebba Huber is back home from Florida. The U. S. S. Holland, which became the first undersea craft to be commissioned by the U. S. Navy was accepted on Apr. 11, 1900 for a price of $150,000. Today's atomic submarines cost about $30,000,000 exclusive of the power plant.

Boat Owners Must Register with C. G.

All inboard motorboats, regardless of their size, and outboards exceeding 16 feet in length when operated on any of the five Great Lakes, MUST be numbered by the U. S. Coast Guard.

The only exception to this law are public vessels, motor lifeboats carried as lifesaving equipment on inspected vessels, and other vessels documented by the U. S. Customs Department.

The Numbering Act is for the purpose of identification only, it is not a license, or permit, for any such boat to engage in trade.

To obtain a certificate of award of number, the boat owner may contact either the Coast Guard District Commander in Cleveland, or any Office of Marine Inspection located in the major cities of the Great Lakes.

Upon application, pending the actual receipt of the certificate of award, a letter of authorization will be issued to the boat owner which is somewhat like a temporary driver's license, in that it is valid until the arrival of the actual certificate.

Once a number has been issued the boat owner, he must display that number upon both bows of his boat, in letters at least three inches high and in contrasting colors to the background.

Failure to comply with the Numbering Act is punishable by fine and causes undue delay. Don't be caught short this summer; if you buy a motorboat—register it with the U. S. Coast Guard.

Paintless License Plates Replaced Free of Charge

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today reminded motorists whose front license plates have lost their paint that the plates will be replaced without charge.

All that is needed is a postcard or letter to the Automobile Division of Secretary Carpentier's office giving the license number and stating that the paint has peeled from the plate.

Only about 8,000 individuals have taken advantage of that offer so far, Mr. Carpentier said. He added that the manufacturer's investigation of what caused the peeling indicated that there are many more defective plates.

When it was determined that a substance used on certain series of numbers to treat the aluminum before painting was the source of the difficulty, the manufacturer agreed to replace the plates without charge to the state or the motorist.

Some White Animals Troubled by Hot Sun

Sunlight can cause discomfort for animals with a white or light colored skin when they are grazing certain types of forage, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association. Shade should be provided and animals with areas of white or light-colored skin should be watched for signs of skin irritation.

Fast growing buckwheat, rape, certain weeds and the lush growth of winter wheat, rye and some drugs can increase susceptibility to sunburn or photosensitization in these light-skinned animals. All farm animals, the Association said, including hogs, cattle, sheep, horses and goats can be affected by this condition providing the other factors—sunlight, fast growing green forage and a skin without pigment are present.

In affected animals the light colored skin may become red or bluish, swollen and sensitive. The longer the animal is exposed to sunshine, the worse its condition becomes. The damaged skin tends to dry and separate from the normal skin at the line where the white skin joins pigmented skin.

Affected animals tend to avoid movement because of the pain from their tender skin, causing weight loss from their inability to forage. If cows with photosensitization have white teats they are usually affected and are very sensitive. These cows will not stand to be milked or nursed by a calf.

In some animals, large areas of skin may slough off and the only humane course is to send such animals to market, the Association said. The best way to avoid photosensitization in white or light-skinned animals is to provide shade in their pastures and when signs such as a change in skin color, swelling or skin sensitivity appear, remove them from the grazing area and keep them out of the sun.

Companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange paid their common share owners $2,124,608,430 in cash dividends during the first quarter of 1957—a record high for any past comparable period.

Barbara Sorensen Becomes June Bride Of William Hamblin

St. Peter's Church, Antioch, was the scene of a double ring ceremony at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, June 15 in which Miss Barbara Jean Sorensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sorensen of Antioch, was married to William Hamblin, the son of Mrs. Robert D. Gripp of Petite Lake.

Reverend Alfred J. Henderson performed the nuptials and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her gown, the bride chose Alecon lace and nylon tulle over satin. Her sculptured torso bodice fashioned a scalloped V neckline that was trimmed with sequins and pearls, and long tapered sleeves. Her all nylon tulle bouffant skirt featured jeweled trimmings of lace that fell into her brush sweep. A jeweled crown held her silk illusion veils. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis.

Miss Diane Sheehan was the maid of honor and the bride's maids were Sheryl Mair, Mary Joyce Sorensen, the bride's sister, and Mary Ann Hamblin, the groom's sister. They wore garden formals of nylon eyelet over aqua and pink taffeta with matching picture hats and carried white baskets filled with painted daisies and larkspur. Carol Gripp, the groom's sister, was the flower girl.

Arthur Doyle was the best man and the ushers were James Riley, Ray Sorensen, the bride's cousin, and Donald Wertz.

A reception at 7 p.m. was given at the Chevy Chase Country Club in Wheeling.

The Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri, was the destination of the honeymoon bound couple.

Gems of Thought MUSIC

Music is divine. Mind, not matter, makes music; and if the divine tone be lacking, the human tone has no melody for me.—Mary Baker Eddy.

All music is what awakes from you when you are reminded by the instruments.—Walt Whitman.

The fine drama or the fine piece of music, does not make its auditor part of a crowd; it removes him, and everyone else in the crowd, and makes him an individual.—George Jean Nathan.

There is no truer truth obtainable by man than comes of music.—Robert Browning.

Music is the fourth great material want of our nature—first food, then raiment, then shelter, then music.—Bovee.

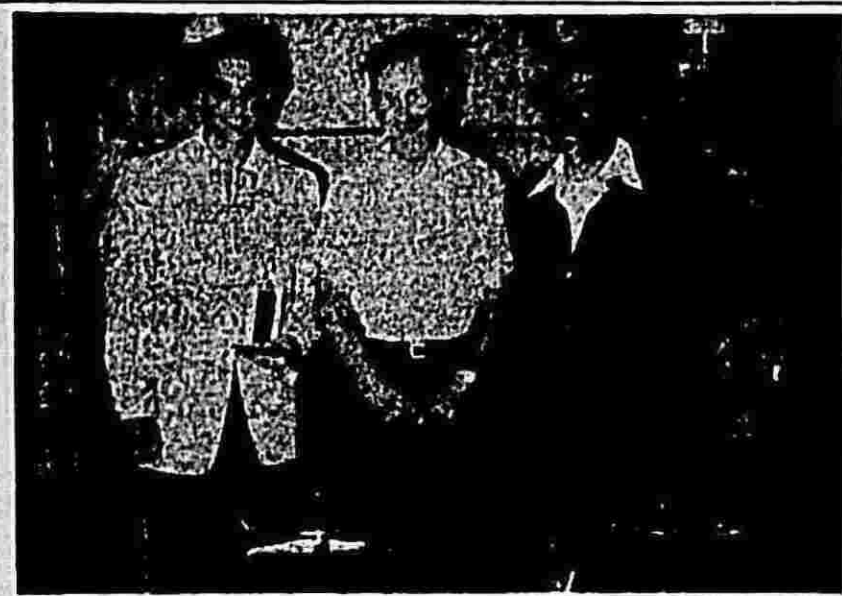

Music in the best sense, does not require novelty; nay, the older it is, and the more we are accustomed to it, the greater its effect.—Goethe.

"Knackerbrod," a favorite bread in Sweden, is made principally of rye meal and sour milk. The bread baked in thin round disks with holes in the center, is strung on long poles and kept on racks near the ceiling.

Officers of Antioch Woman's Club

Preston J. Reckers Jr., left, advertising manager of the Antioch News, won the low score trophy, and Anthony Scully, auto salesman, right, won the Peoria handicap low score honor at the Lions Club spring golf tournament at Salem Country Club Wednesday, June 19. They were presented charcoal barbecue broilers by Irving Carey, center, chairman of the committee in charge of the event. Thirty-nine members and guests played golf, and 51 were present at the dinner which followed. All received golf or attendance prizes.

Funeral of Ina Small Held Tuesday Morning

Death claimed Ina Small, 83 years of age, at 8 p. m. Friday, June 21. Mrs. Small, a resident of the Petite Lake Highwood Subdivision, Lake Villa, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edna Gover.

Mrs. Small lived in Boston, Mass., for 30 years and in Chicago for 21 years before coming to Lake Villa 9 years ago.

Preceding her in death is her husband, Cyrus, who died in 1950. Her survivors are daughter, Mrs. Edna Gover of Lake Villa, a brother, Clarence Marrott of Scranton, Pa., and a sister, Myrtle Jones of Quincy, Mass.

Services were held Monday at Strang's funeral home. The Rev. Edmond Hood presided.

Peter Baker and Sons Get Local Road Job

Peter Baker and Son, Lake Bluff, probably will get the contract for paving Rte. 21-83 a distance of 3.62 miles at Antioch with bituminous surface on its bid of $51,812.

This is at a rate of $14,310 per mile, which is what it used to cost for brick or cement, let alone the cheaper black top.

The other $12 million worth of construction contracts let by the State Division of Highways approximates the same cost per mile.

What Do You Call 'em?

"Birds of a feather flock together," and you say "a flock of birds." But if you saw several of one kind of animals, you wouldn't say a flock of cows, would you? You'd say a herd of cows. We find this in a book written in 1801 by Joseph Strutt:

"When beasts went together in companies, there was said to be a lepe of leopards, a singular of boars, a skulk of foxes, a crete of badgers, a clowder of cats and a kyndyll of young cats, a shrewdness of apes, and a labour of moles. There was a muster of peacocks, a murmuration of starlings, a watch of nightingales, and a charm of goldfinches.

"There were many others—such as a pride of lions, a gam of whales, a dule of turtles—and some curious terms used for group of people—a skulk of thieves, a stalk of foresters, a blast of hunters, a gaggle of women, and a nonpatience of wives." (fishermen's, probably.)

According to the Associated Press, the gas utilities and pipeline companies have so far spent $500 million on holes in the ground. These holes amount to warehouses, in which gas is stored in the warm season for delivery when winter sends demand soaring.

The world is filled with such a number of things that travel experts warn all vacationists to take much more film than they expect to use. Trips worth talking about are worth taking on film to show it.

Sudden death will strike over 40,000 men, women and children in traffic accidents in 1956, unless all of us do something about it!

HEALTH TALK

THE CHILD'S MENTAL HEALTH
The mental state of the adult is largely dependent on the guidance and understanding given to the children of today, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society points out in Health Talk.

Heredity plays a major role in the development of the growth processes. Physical characteristics of the parents are usually transmitted to the children. This development is part of the influence ordained by nature, and, as yet, no real medical contribution has been advanced to alter the tendency.

The mental growth process of the child, however, can be altered appreciably so that a youngster who has become intractable can be guided, through social and emotional adjustment, to normal mental health when he reaches maturity.

While children's behavior problems fall into many categories, all can safely be classified under a form of escape. A child who has been coddled at home, foregone such baby discipline as putting toys away, getting ready for bed without a whimper, or sharing toys with a neighbor, is apt to show the same selfish arrogance when entering school for the first time. Even though the obstinacy or refusal to obey brings on punishment, the child has gained the attention of parents or teachers and it is this habit which, if permitted to develop, will produce a selfish, mal-adjusted adult.

To help guide the child into good mental habits, one should watch carefully his emotional changes or behavior patterns while in infancy and babyhood. The basic patterns established in the young, unless controlled and converted, will develop through the years, taking shape in frustration, violence, disobedience and other signs of social maladjustment.

Great understanding and patience are required in providing the child with adequate nourishment for mental growth. Many parents adhere strictly to the formulas for proper diet and neglect the food so necessary for mental development.

The child needs security—he must be shown that he is wanted. Again responsibility should be given to the child only according to his age and ability. And finally, he should be free from a standard of behavior beyond his age of development.

On the whole children like to assume responsibility, but to assign it before they are ready will impair rather than enhance mental health. Little tasks, in keeping with their understanding, will increase their self-confidence. Scolding, belittling or unfair comparison with older children will break down self-confidence, making the child shy and afraid. It is this child that may develop into a neurotic, complaining, dependent adult.

Conversely, wrong treatment is likely to encourage the child into a "show-off," complaining attitude, deriving satisfaction from the attention in the momentary scolding or punishment. This child is laying the foundation for the braggart type of adult, always on the offensive, and willing to take any kind of dare to gain attention.

Helping the child grow normally, physically and mentally, should be the objective of teachers and parents alike. Trust in one's self should be the basic philosophy of every living person. Teaching this trust to the child in keeping with his mental development is one of the greatest responsibilities of the parent or teacher. Molding and guiding the child's character will give him understanding and freedom from unsuitable inhibitions that will be reflected in his growth into a normal socially adjusted adult.

C & O Canal Was Early Dream of George Washington

WASHINGTON—The quiet pleasures of walkers, canoeists, naturalists, and fishermen now rule along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, a booming trade route gone bankrupt.

Winding 185 miles through the green valley of the Potomac River from Washington, D.C., to Cumberland, Maryland, the canal was the long-delayed fruition of a plan older than the United States, the National Geographic Society says.

George Washington began to contemplate such a waterway to the west in 1754, when he was a 22-year-old surveyor. His idea was to improve the bed of the river.

The Revolution thwarted the plan, but in 1784, shortly after resigning his commission as Commander in Chief, Washington persuaded the legislatures of Maryland and Virginia to grant a charter to his "Potomac Company."

Work started at once. Loose stone and sand were dredged from the river bottom; deeper passages were blasted through solid rock. Walled channels were built over shallow rapids and water forced into them by dams. Five short reaches were built around impassable falls.

By 1802, the work was substantially finished. Though dangerous to navigation, the river from Western Maryland to the Capital was carrying furs, flour, lumber and whisky.

Earth Encircled By Ring of Wind

LOS ANGELES—A Saturn-like ring of wind apparently encircles the earth at about 100,000 feet above the equator.

So reports Dr. Clarence E. Palmer, geophysicist at the University of California, Los Angeles, who has been studying the high level wind. The first indication of the wind ring was following the tremendous Krakatoa explosion in 1883 near the equator in the South Pacific, Dr. Palmer says. Fine dust from the gigantic volcanic explosion apparently was carried in a narrow band around the earth by this wind 2 1/2 times.

Theoretical considerations of the stratosphere in recent years have largely overlooked this evidence, according to the UCLA geophysicist. It has been thought that wind at this altitude along the equator flows back and forth between winter and summer hemispheres as it does at lower altitudes.

Data from Eniwetok bomb tests and observations made at such areas as Singapore and Nairobi in Africa have indicated, however, as did the Krakatoa observations, that a steady easterly wind blows around the earth the year around at the 100,000-foot level, Dr. Palmer says.

'Living Fossil' Held Link to Earliest Times

WASHINGTON—A specimen of a "living fossil," perhaps the most primitive extant member of one of the major classes of animals, has recently been added to the collections of the Smithsonian Institution. This is a crustacean that has certain characters of the long-extinct trilobites, the earth's dominant animals of a half billion years ago, fossils of which are among the earliest traces of a high order of life on this planet.

It was found by Dr. Howard L. Sanders, of Yale University, in dredging from the bottom of Long Island Sound and afterward from Buzzards Bay, Massachusetts. Examples of the same or a related species have more recently been taken from San Francisco Bay. Presumably it is exclusively an inhabitant of the mud bottoms of shallow inshore waters and never comes to the surface or has a free-swimming existence. This may account for the fact that it has remained unknown so long.

Surprised Library Gets Old Shakespeare Folio

LOS ANGELES—A large book of "Mr. William Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, never before printed in folio" has unexpectedly landed on the shelves of the University of California, Los Angeles, library.

The valuable old folio, printed only 16 years after Shakespeare's death, was presented without previous announcement to Lawrence Clark Powell, UCLA librarian, by Justin G. Turner, a Los Angeles businessman, at a recent meeting of the Friends of the Library.

Heart Disease Deadly

CHICAGO—One out of every two deaths is caused by cardiovascular diseases. However, medical scientists are confident that a notable decline in the heart diseases among the young and middle aged can be brought about in the next ten years if adequate support is given to research, and if new and existing information is properly implemented through education and community service programs.

Social Security Office Open Saturday All-Day For Disability Filing

The Waukegan social security district office at 1515 Washington st. will be open all day Saturday, June 29, in addition to its normal weekday schedule. Bernard Barnett, district office manager, said today. He explained that this special Saturday schedule of office hours, from 8:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m., will enable the office to accept last-minute applications from severely disabled people who may be eligible for social security disability protection.

This will be the ONLY SATURDAY that the social security office which serves Lake and McHenry counties will be open for business, Barnett said.

Mr. Barnett pointed out that people who have been disabled and unable to work for a long time must apply before June 30 for disability benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen." Otherwise, they may, in some cases, lose their rights to disability payments and also their own and their family's rights to old age and survivor's insurance payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least 5 years and has been disabled for 6 months or more should get in touch with the Waukegan district office right away. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to protect his future right to disability payments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and survivors payments.

"To get social security disability insurance benefits at age 50 or over, or to have your social security record frozen," said Barnett, "you must have social security credit for at least 5 years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for work during the 3 years just before your disability began."

"In addition, you must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which will show up in a medical examination or tests, and it must have lasted for at least 6 months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time."

Barnett emphasized that any disabled person who feels that he might qualify under these provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with the social security district office before June 30 by letter, phone, or in person. If he is not able to do so himself, someone else may make the contact for him.

HUNDRED YEAR CLUB HOLDS LUNCHEON

Two hundred members of the Shell Oil Company's Chicago Division and 45 pensioners were honored Thursday, June 20 at the annual luncheon of Shell's "Ten Year and Over Club" at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago. Following the luncheon, the group attended the Cubs-Philadelphia baseball game at Wrigley Field.

Membership in this club is limited to employees with 10 years or more service with the company.

Among those in attendance from Antioch was John F. Larsen, Rte. 4, Box 74, Felter's Subdivision, retired.

United States submarines sank 214 naval and 1178 merchant vessels in World War II operations against the Axis powers.

Miss Mary Tully, rural Antioch, played to the final match in Illinois Women's Amateur Golf tournament at Bloomington, Ill., Country club Friday and won a silver trophy.

She was defeated 5-4 by Mrs. Shirley Dommers, former Iowa champion, and winner of several European invitational titles, who annexed the Illinois championship.

The achievement of Miss Tully is remarkable in that she is but a young golfer. Three years ago she survived the first flight, and last year she played in the quarter finals. State champion is her goal for next year.

Suffered Severe Sunburn
The match play with Mrs. Dommers went 36 holes and all that time Mary was forced to play with second degree sunburn to her arms, the result of 36 holes of play the day before. She had to wear long sleeves to protect the blistered skin and this was annoying in her play.

Mrs. Dommers, 31, wife of a Belvidere physician, took a 5-up lead over her 19-year-old opponent at the end of 18 holes, and then fired three straight birdies in the afternoon to take the championship.

Miss Tully made some good recoveries after some wild wood shots caused by her sore arms, and cut Mrs. Dommers' lead to 3-up when she captured the 26th hole with a par 3. Even after Mrs. Dommers birdied the next three holes for a 6-up lead, Mary held on by winning the 30th. The next two holes were halved and Mrs. Dommers became champion.

In advancing to the final, Miss Tully defeated Mrs. Ray Youngberg of Butterfield 6-5. Mrs. Anna Weinman, Bloomington 2-up, and Mrs. Clyde Webb, first state champion 2-1. Then she had to play her close friend, Barbara Slobe of Waukegan in the semi-final, winning from her 2-up.

Mary lays her success to her training by her father, James Tully, professional at the Salem Country Club course at Liberty Corners, Salem, Wis., where she does most of her playing now.

She is employed as a bookkeeper at the office of Equitable Builders in Waukegan. She was graduated from Antioch Township High School in June 1956.

U. S. News & World Report observes that U. S. demand for foreign automobiles is growing "at a surprising rate." These imports—consisting mostly of small, extremely economical machines—accounted for only 0.6 per cent of the U. S. car market in 1954. This year the figure is expected to be about 3 per cent.

by the Chicago fishermen that the Fosnock boat seemed to turn over backward, said that the boat may have hit some submerged object. The Twin Lakes and Trevor Rescue squads also were called to the scene.

Fosnock had lived at Camp Lake since 1956. He was born Sept. 9, 1925, in East St. Louis, Ill., and resided there until he entered the Seabees. He was discharged Jan. 5, 1946 and lived in Chicago before moving to Camp Lake in Kenosha county, Wis.

He was an employee of the Yarnall Chevrolet Co. in Chicago.

He is survived by the widow, formerly Clara Anderson, and two daughters, Vicky Lynn, 5, and Janet Fay, 15 months; the father, Robert, and three sisters, all of St. Louis, and seven brothers, six in East St. Louis and one in Massachusetts. It was the first drowning of the year for Kenosha county.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

End To Dizziness

The familiar sensation of dizziness is a by-product of one of the many senses we have in addition to the traditional five—the sense of balance.

The body's position in space is reported to the brain by a delicate apparatus called the inner ear. Rapid changes in position—such as being whirled around and around—disturb the inner ear, causing it to misreport. The result is the false sensation that the room is in motion around you, usually coupled with a falling sensation.

Damage to the inner ear can make dizziness more or less permanent. Doctors refer to this highly unpleasant situation as Meniere's syndrome. Sufferers from this disease, and people unusually prone to dizziness, no longer have to suffer in silence, however. A new combination drug, called Antivert, goes right to the source of the trouble. It contains meclizine, which calms down the agitated inner ear, and nicotinic acid (one of the B vitamins), which increases the flow of blood through the brain.

Up to now there has been no simple, simple treatment for dizziness. Physicians have tried a number of remedies without consistent success.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IS THE LIFE OF ANY VILLAGE

Can you imagine what Antioch would be like without a newspaper?

No way of learning about important happenings; no place to publish your wants, your legal notices or advertising, your news about clubs, civic organizations, sports, and detailed information in general.

Weekly newspapers are the most important media of news dissemination for small communities. They are institutions without which communities lose their individuality.

Read the Antioch News—subscribe for it by the year and it will pay for itself many times over through information giving financial advantages let alone the entertainment of general news.

Statistics Show Low Death Rate Was Set in 1956

NEW YORK—A new low death rate was recorded last year among the owners of America's 85,000,000 ordinary life insurance policies, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today.

The 1956 death rate was 581.7 per 100,000, compared with 598.8 the year before and 668.8 ten years earlier.

The improvement reflects some 9,000 fewer policyholder deaths in 1956 than would have occurred had the previous year's rate still applied and 45,000 fewer when compared with the 1946 rate.

"Most of the causes of death showed lower death rates in the past year," Dr. Louis I. Dublin, eminent statistician and consultant on health and welfare of the Institute, said in commenting on the year's tabulation. "Once again, tuberculosis showed a marked decline as a cause of death, the 1956 rate of 2.8 per 100,000 being 13 percent under that of the previous year and 84 percent under the 1946 rate. At the same time, last year was the second consecutive year to see a reduced death rate from cancer, the fourth consecutive year for the diseases of the heart and circulatory system and the fifth consecutive year for accidents."

The heart and circulatory diseases remained the No. 1 cause of death in 1956, accounting for 57 percent of all deaths among ordinary insurance policyholders.

Immigration Adds To Our Population

NEW YORK—Immigration added 3.2 million persons to the population of the United States—or about one-ninth of the total population increase—between 1946 and the end of 1956.

Following the historic pattern of immigration into this country, the majority of the newcomers were of European origin. However, their proportion of the total was considerably below that of earlier decades. In fact, during 1953-56 not quite two-fifths came from continental Europe, and less than one-tenth came from the British Isles; by contrast, the proportion of immigrants from Europe and the British Isles was at least nine-tenths prior to World War I.

Various groups have swelled the tide of immigration during the post-war period, the statisticians point out. Nearly 120,000 wives and children of service men were one such group; the Refugee Relief Act provided for 209,000 special quota-exempt visas between August 1953 and December 31, 1956; and Hungarian refugees accounted for 32,000 immigrants since November of last year.

Spain's Santiago Is Regaining New Favor

WASHINGTON — There was a time when all roads led not to Rome but to Spain's holy city, Santiago de Compostela.

This medieval city—the traditional burial place of St. James the Elder—was once the most visited shrine in western Europe. Over the course of centuries, it is likely that only Jerusalem and Rome have drawn more Christian pilgrims.

Though time dimmed its glory, Santiago has remained a crossroads of Christendom. And once again, travelers are discovering the city whose gray stone towers rise from a hillside in Galicia, the northwest corner of the Iberian Peninsula.

Santiago is considered one of Europe's architectural gems—a charming composite of many styles. It is among the very few cities that Spain has elevated to the rank of National Monument. Flagstone streets, too narrow for traffic, press beneath arches and arcades to converge on the magnificent, 900-year-old Cathedral.

Clogged Ears Hazardous To Swimming Safety

CHICAGO—Wax in a swimmer's ears—particularly in only one ear—may lead to serious or even dangerous consequences, a Philadelphia otolaryngologist reports.

Dr. Albert P. Selzer said that dizziness sometimes occurs when a person swims in cold water which enters his ears and causes abnormal activity in the ears' labyrinths where the sense of equilibrium is controlled.

Dizziness is especially likely to occur when only one ear is clogged with wax, he said. Cold water cannot reach that ear's labyrinth, but does reach the labyrinth of the unclogged ear. This sets up two different unbalanced reactions and produces dizziness and inability to tell body position.

LANSING, MICH.—A million tourists yearly visit the cascades in Sparks Foundation Park of Jackson, Michigan. The waterfalls extend 500 feet, and drop 64 feet in eleven falls. At night more than a thousand magical colored lights floodlight the falls and fountains.

Veterans May Get Second G. I. Loan

Willard A. Manning, Administrator of the Illinois Veterans' Commission, today advised veterans that the Veterans Administration has recently established a more liberal policy in granting G. I.'s a second loan. The sale of a veteran's home on which he has a G. I. loan may entitle him to a second loan if the original home was sold and veteran moved to another community as a result of obtaining a better job. The Veterans Administration defines a better job as being one that would increase the veteran's income or provide him with greater opportunity for advancement. Restoration of G. I. loan eligibility formerly was made only if the job change or transfer to another city was involuntary and beyond the veteran's control. The new ruling also applies to a veteran moving to a different city following retirement.

No G. I. loan entitlement can be restored, however, unless the Veterans Administration is relieved of liability on the old loan. This may be accomplished by payment of the loan in full, either by the veteran or the new purchaser. Arrangements may be made for the new purchaser to assume the unpaid balance if good credit can be established.

Other circumstances under which a veteran may be entitled to new G. I. loan eligibility are by reason of a governmental agency taking the property for public use, the property being destroyed by a natural hazard, or disposal of the property for compelling reasons of health or other such circumstances beyond the control of the veteran.

For further information relative to G. I. loans, veterans are invited to visit the nearest Illinois Veterans' Commission Office.

In Lake County, veterans should contact the Illinois Veterans' Commission Service Officer at 221 Washington Street in Waukegan. The office is open daily between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5 p. m. and on Saturday until noon.

Running Lights Required On All Motorboats Operated After Sunset

Rear Admiral E. H. Thiele, Commander of the 9th Coast Guard District, announced today that for the current boating season, the Coast Guard will not require that the all-around white light aft be on the centerline of motorboats. However, this federal requirement will be enforced on the navigable waters of the United States beginning with the next boating season.

While this light may be placed anywhere on the centerline aft of the mid-length, it should be as close to the stern as possible.

Admiral Thiele suggests that in the interest of safety, motorboat owners make this change now.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilmore of Chicago, soon to be residents of Lindhurst, were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sasaidek.

Mrs. Helen Skelton was hostess for a surprise baby shower for Mrs. A. Henry in her home this past week. Mrs. Henry's friends and neighbors helped to surprise her.

Mrs. Avis Hamlin, new president of the Altar and Rosary Society of Prince of Peace church, called a board meeting in her home on June 19 to discuss and formulate ideas to be presented to the Society at the next regular meeting which will be held at the Village hall on July 3rd. Nothing is set as it must be passed on the floor and the ladies will vote. By getting ideas ahead of time it saves time at the meetings and they are presented better. Mrs. Barbara Konitzer says that her plans as program chairman for the present year were to have the chairmen of the various committees to put on a skit or demonstration of what their committees will do for the year, one or two a month.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Selzer were Allen Molitor of Wilmette and Miss Helen Gill of Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. William Witucki and son were Saturday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willis.

Mrs. Francis Singer of Cicero has been visiting in the home of her son, Vincent and family this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hay and family visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hay in Niles on Saturday.

The Lindhurst Men's Club baseball team held its first practice game on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Graves and family spent the weekend in the home of Mrs. Graves' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sterling of Maywood.

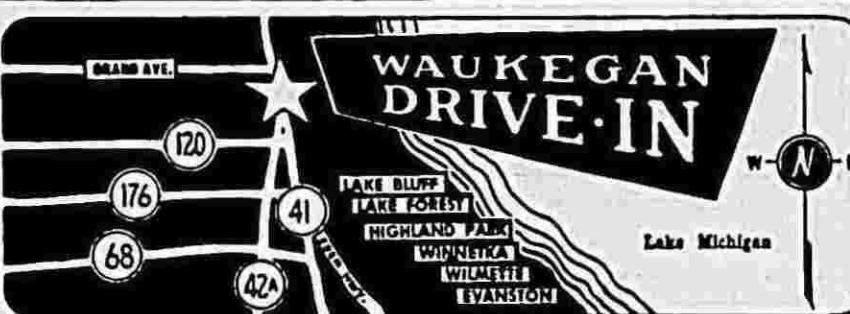

This past week has been an important week for Mr. and Mrs. Simecek. On Thursday, the 20th they celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary by dining out. On Friday, the 21st which was Mrs. Simecek's birthday they visited in the home of her youngest son, Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Johnson and family.

Guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Coles were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coles, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Streicher and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Streicher and daughter, Robert Streicher, Miss Joan Streicher, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon LaSanche, Mr. and Mrs. Van Der Meer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pawlowski, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thiry and family, Cletus Huenig and Miss Mary Mout. The occasion was Mr. Coles' birthday.

Jewel meat is better because it's cut that way! Take a standing rib roast for example. Only the first five ribs of beef make a tender, juicy rib roast. That's why Jewel never cuts the rest of the rib for anything else but pot roast. And of course, like all Jewel beef, Jewel rib roasts are U. S. Choice. Two more reasons why, for meat . . .

Older Persons More Efficient Workers

Older persons gradually are disproving the myth they can't hold their own with younger workers. But obsolete company policies and prejudice still continue to operate against job seekers over 40.

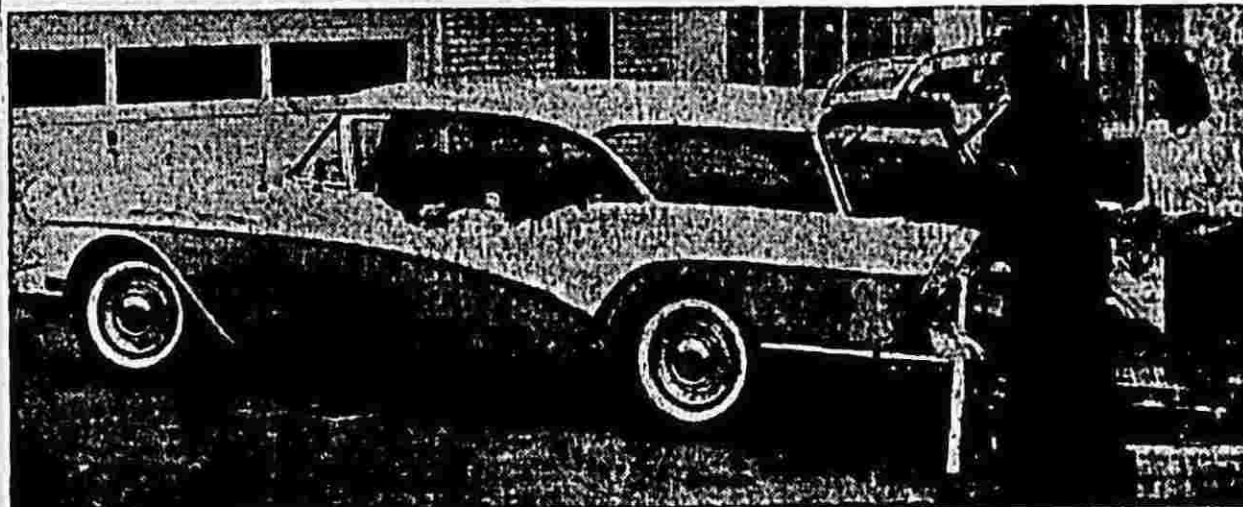

Ronald Schiller reports on this problem in a July Reader's Digest article titled, "Help Wanted: for the 40-Plus," condensed from Your Life.

Schiller says a National Association of Manufacturers survey of 3,313,000 employees showed that in work performance 93 per cent of the older workers were equal or superior and only seven per cent were not equal to younger workers.

A more detailed study by the University of Illinois revealed that half of all employers still have age restrictions, and that between 50 and 60 per cent of the job openings are still not available to men over 40 or 45, or to women over 35.

Schiller says the survey showed that many firms still feel that older persons can't meet production requirements, are too set in their ways, are less creative than younger

Keep Small Fry Happy with Quiz Games and Frequent Stops

A vacation-bound family ready to leave as the planning of a vacation trip than just having soon as Dad takes the starting picture and packs the car serviced—they'll start early, stop early and the baggage. This family believes there's more to play group participation games to pass the time.

FLINT, MICH.—Does your family play the "Alphabet Game?"

If not, it's high time you taught them, particularly if you're planning a long automobile trip this summer. "Alphabet" ranks right along with "When I Get Home I'm Going to Write a Letter to . . .", and "I'm Thinking of an Animal with Six Letters" as excellent pastimes for the kids when the monotony of driving sets in. And, besides, they don't put any extra strain on the driver.

The three games are among suggestions offered by L. D. Burkhardt, manager of Bulck's customer drive-away department, as helpful hints to vacationing motorists.

"There's a lot more to a summer vacation trip than having the car serviced, packing some bags and loading the kids into the car," says Burkhardt, who annually offers advice to thousands of drivers who take delivery of new Buicks at Flint headquarters of the big automobile manufacturing company. "There's not a man alive who hasn't been annoyed on a trip by children scuffling in the back seat, demanding a drink, asking every five minutes 'how soon do we get there?' or a dozen other things. Burkhardt doesn't promise complete relief, but his ideas have considerable merit.

For instance, he suggests taking along a small portable icebox with an assortment of soft drinks and a box of cookies for snacking purposes. Also a washrag and towels for clean-ups. And, if the kids are small, a plastic bag of unbreakable toys.

He suggests, too, frequent rest stops, every 100 miles or two hours, whichever comes first. They should be at a filling station, if possible, and if you're embarrassed about using the facilities available, arrange so you'll need gasoline each time you stop.

"Get the kids out and let them walk around," he says. "And the driver should do the same to stretch his own legs and rest his back. When you get back in, change the riding arrangement to help break the monotony."

Burkhardt advises an early start in the morning and an early stop at night. Start looking for lodging not much later than 4 p. m. and certainly find one by 5 p. m. Gives the kids time to play around before dinner. Be in bed a little after dark, and that includes adults, too.

"If you can get along without coffee for an hour in the morning, take off early and drive for an hour before stopping for breakfast," he says. "The children will be drowsy and you can cover some miles in light, traffic without any strain at all."

Obviously you shouldn't try to cover too much ground in any one day. If your car has Dynaflo transmission and power steering and brakes, you can cover as much as 500 miles in a day. Maybe a bit more, if you're using turnpikes most of the time. But if you're in the mountains or on narrow roads, cut it down considerably.

"A good rule-of-thumb is to limit your actual driving time to a maximum of eight hours a day," Burkhardt recommends. "That doesn't include stops for meals, leg-stretching or what have you. Just the actual time you're in the car."

When you're having your car serviced before leaving home, pick up some road maps and study out your route. Just because you know how to get to the nearest big city is no reason you know how to get out of it on the other side. A series of marked maps of the states you'll cover is handy and can save you the frustrating experience of retracing your route.

And what about the games? "Alphabet" involves keeping an eye out for roadside signs. The object is to find a word starting with "A", "B", and so on. Covers a lot of miles, especially when you get down to "Q", "X" and the like. In "Letter" the recipient's initials are used. Of course, it has to be someone the entire family knows. There are a lot of variations to this one, obviously. So are there to "Animal", one of which is to name three animals—or anything else—starting with each letter of the alphabet.

"If you can keep the kids contented, you're almost assured of a pleasant trip," adds Burkhardt. "Modern cars and modern highways—plus observance of the safety rules—take care of virtually everything else."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Representative Whitten of Mississippi recently engaged in a rather heated debate on farm policy. It ended, however, in a lighter note. Secretary Benson: "When we get on the other side, if you and I meet, we will probably still discuss the farm problem." Mr. Whitten: "Mr. Secretary, where I hope to go and I trust you will go, I understand there are no problems." The Flury anti-rabies vaccine, which is safely used in adult dogs, has been reported hazardous to adult foxes, skunks, and cattle, according to the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Mind, Not Body, Slows Down Your Athletic Ability

LOS ANGELES—Don't blame age for slowing you down in athletics—blame your own laziness.

Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse, professor of physical education at the University of California, Los Angeles, said studies of individuals who have continued physical activities throughout their lives show that men 70 or 80 years old can perform physical feats as well as men of 20 or 30.

The secret, he said, lies not in any magic dietary formula, such as eating homogenized artichoke hearts with yogurt, or in hygienic rituals, like taking cold showers at four in the morning, but in everyday, enjoyable physical activity.

Those who are accomplished at twirling in office swivel chairs but at little more are offered hope for their athletic resurrection.

"Any adult who wants to get in good enough condition to enjoy some sport or other can do so at any age," Dr. Morehouse said. "Of course he can't start where he left off when a youth, and he must build up gradually, but he'll end up enriching his life through enjoyment of sports."

Dr. Morehouse, a 43-year-old golf and tennis enthusiast, said a person who is 40 today can look forward to 40 more years of active participation in athletics.

"It's not too late to start lessons in tennis, swimming, golf, and the like," the physical educationist said. "Start out easy, play with people of your own achievement level, and within two or three years you can become an excellent performer."

More 'Rithmetic Will Be Needed

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Newspaper and science editors believe that "tomorrow's citizens" will require a "greater knowledge of arithmetic than their parents to get along." This is one point disclosed in a survey conducted by W. MacLean Johnson, president of the Webster Publishing Company. Citing the increasing complexities of today's living—taxes, social security, union dues, installment buying, payroll deductions and other items requiring a working knowledge of arithmetic, more than 70% of the editors responding felt that more knowledge of arithmetic will be required of the next generation.

Even more emphatic were the editors in the belief that today's shortage of engineers is due to several factors, including: "The present attitude of some pupils (and perhaps teachers) that arithmetic is a dull subject." More than 90% of the editors felt that this attitude was among the factors responsible for today's shortage of engineers.

America Is Still Land Of Wide, Open Spaces

America is still a land of wide open spaces, whatever contrary impression may be given by the big growth in population over the past decade and our rapidly-spreading urbanization and industrialization.

Figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on major uses of land in the United States show that all urbanized areas together take up less than 20 million acres, or just about one per cent of the nation's entire land area of 1.9 billion acres. Urban areas are towns and cities of 1,000 population and over.

About 25 million more acres are involved in such necessities of modern civilization as highways and roads, railroads and airports. To this can be added an estimated 10 million acres occupied by rural villages and towns with populations of 100 to 1,000.

Shorter Terms Are Best When Buying New Auto

Automobile buyers are serving their own best interests when they make larger down payments and schedule monthly payments for the shortest period of time, declares the American Finance Conference, national trade association of automobile sales finance companies.

Urging the 65 per cent of the American public who buy cars on time to seek shorter rather than longer terms, the Conference points out that:

Making the largest possible down payment will reduce the balance to be paid in monthly installments.

Paying the contract in fewer months will build greater owner equity more quickly and eliminate the additional charges for longer terms.

nothing gives your kitchen the modern look like a modern electric range and nothing cooks cleaner, cooks cooler, or cooks food faster!

so modern, so clean, so cool!

As an appliance dealer recently observed,
"This is the electric age... electric servants are taking over in the home."

Typical of this trend is the change to the electric range. Women like their modern looks and appreciate surface units that keep pots and pans bright. And electric ovens hold the heat more evenly because they are insulated on all 6 sides (not merely 5). Such refinements as automatic oven controls, radiant broiling, new super-speed surface units are easy to take, too. Equally important, you can be sure your new electric range will be modern for many years to come.

Doctor Population Increased by 3,000 During Year 1956

CHICAGO—The physician population of the United States increased by 3,004 in 1956, according to the annual report on physician licensure by the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals.

Actually 7,463 physicians received their first licenses to practice medicine and surgery in 1956. However, 3,859 physicians died during the year. Subtracting this number from the number licensed for the first time leaves a gain of 3,604 in the total American physician population.

State and territorial boards issued 14,543 licenses during the year, but 7,080 went to doctors already holding licenses from another state or to men who took examinations in more than one state.

Of the total licenses given, 7,122 were by written examination and 7,421 by interstate reciprocity and other methods. Compared with 1955, a near-record year exceeded only by 1946 and 1954, there was a decrease of 297 in the total number of licenses issued.

Most candidates who received licenses by examination came from the 78 approved four-year medical schools in this country and 11 in Canada. The rest were from foreign schools, unapproved schools, schools of osteopathy, and schools no longer operating. Only 4.5 per cent of the 6,149 graduates of approved American schools failed to get licenses. Most failures occurred among graduates of foreign, unapproved or osteopathic schools.

The greatest number of licenses (1,745) was issued by California. New York issued 1,355.

Many Known Stars Revolving Twins

WASHINGTON—Twin stars with lifetimes of only 100,000 years; stars with enormous diameters but with masses only one-tenth or two-tenths of that of the sun—attention is called to such celestial objects by Dr. Otto Struve, University of California astronomer, in a discussion of the observed phenomena of double stars. A large proportion of known stars are double, and their behavior poses some of the most difficult problems in astronomy.

A report by Dr. Struve on double-star research and its future trends has been issued by the Astrophysical Observatory of the Smithsonian Institution.

These stars revolve around each other. They must have had a common origin, and presumably each pair separated out of an original cloud of rapidly revolving gas. A slowly turning cloud would condense into a single star, according to present orthodox theories. If the revolution were sufficiently rapid, the cloud would split into two or more parts, and each component would condense into a star. These "twins" may differ greatly in diameter and mass.

Women Diners Complain Most, Survey Discloses

Don't look now girls, but the restaurant manager is watching you!

In fact, judging from a survey report released today by Charles C. Cowley, executive vice president of Muzak Corporation, restaurateurs have been watching the ladies at chow for some time. And they want to help the girls relax.

Only 37.1% of the food experts think more women than men customers suffer from tension; 56.6% said more men are affected. However, even though the girls are outnumbered, they seem to feel the need of blowing off steam more. The restaurant men say meal time tension causes:

- women to complain about service more than men;
- more women to be dissatisfied with meals—by almost 2 to 1 over men customers;
- the ladies to be impatient and irritable waiting for service;
- women to smoke excessively—even more than men.

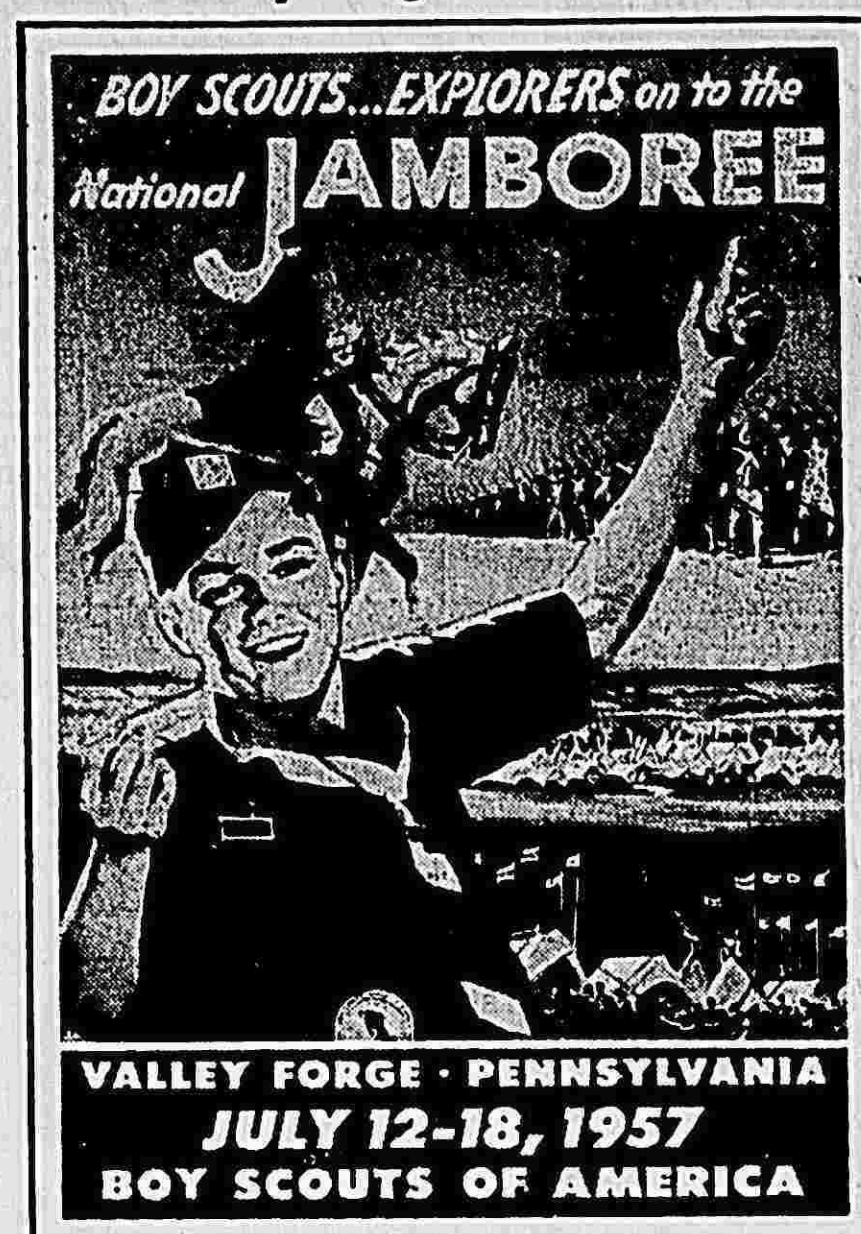

One of Five Americans Moves Every Year

Americans continue to be the movingest people. Figures compiled by the U. S. Bureau of the Census show that 33 million persons of all ages changed homes in the year ending in March, 1956. This represented one person out of every five in the civilian population, a proportion which has shown no important change from year to year over the past decade.

Pretty Blue Eyes

CHICAGO—In our early history, the blue-eyed mountain girls of the Southern Appalachians used juice from the Jimson weed applied to the eyeballs. The juice was thought to enlarge the pupil so that only a thin rim of blue showed. It made them look "purer." Since the plant is poisonous it is not recommended.

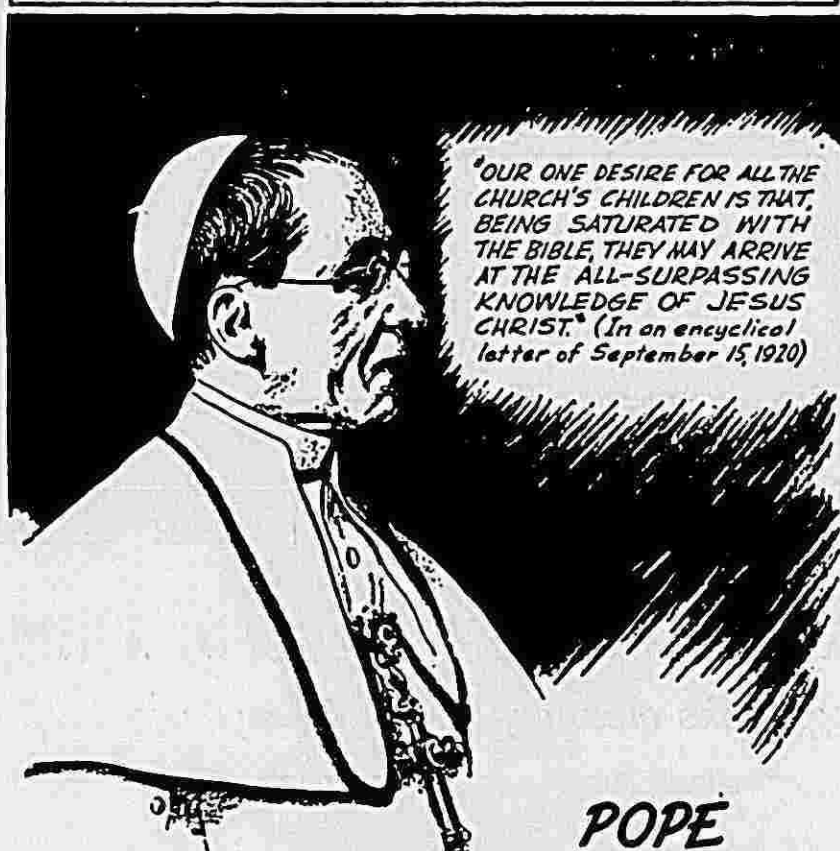

Plan Valley Forge Scout Jamboree

Official Poster of Fourth National Jamboree

Fifty thousand Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands will camp together at the Fourth National Jamboree July 12-18. A 1,500-acre tent city is being prepared at historic Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. It will have its own water supply, electricity, telephone service, post offices, and other services for the largest gathering of boys in the Western Hemisphere. Jamboree campers, all of them at least twelve years old, holding Second Class rank or higher, will share daily camp chores, cook their own meals, take part in displays, campfires, demonstrations, intercamp visits, and excursions to historic shrines in and near Philadelphia. Outstanding Americans will take part in principal events.

TEACHING YOUR YOUNGSTER TO SAVE

Those pennies, nickles and dimes your youngsters like to collect offer a fine opportunity for you to increase their interest in savings and develop their own natural skills.

Children love to draw, and to build, and to see things come to life. So, as a starter, you might give your youngster a hand in building an easy-to-make, cardboard "bank." It needn't be anything more than a crayon-decorated box with dolls, trains, horses, or whatever represents the personal dream for which your small fry is saving. The bank should be given a name of course, and a "teller's window" or a "sidewalk teller" can be made as a slot for the coins.

For a very simple home-made "bank" there's nothing better than a plain glass jar with colorful cut-outs pasted on it. The advantage of such a bank is that when children can watch their pile of coins grow, their interest in savings grows with it.

As the savings grow and the coins collect, the best and safest place for them is, of course, a real bank. Banks pay interest on the deposits of children just as they do those of grown-ups, and they warmly welcome these young customers.

SOAKING THE POOR

As viewed by M. V. Eggleston
By this time Mr. and Mrs. Average American should realize to their sorrow that the "rich" are no longer bearing the brunt of taxation. There was a time when most of the taxes did come from the rich; but today, despite the fact that Uncle Sam multiplies as high as 91 per cent on big incomes, the "rich" supply only a small portion of the amount necessary to run the big show with headquarters on the Potomac.

As a matter of fact, if Federal Government were to take in income tax, 100 per cent of all incomes above $100,000, it would only run the government for 18 days. That means that we "poor" folks whose incomes are under $100,000 per year, are paying the cost of maintaining Federal Government in the manner to which it has become accustomed for at least 347 days of the year.

Getting down a bit lower in the income scale, if Federal Government took 100 per cent of all individual incomes above $10,000, it would run the government for only two months. So, we "very poor" folks whose incomes are under $10,000 per year, are paying at the very last the cost of Washingtonian wasteful spending for ten months out of the year.

It would seem that the policy of "soak the rich" engineered by our "left-wing, liberal" friends hasn't saved the skins of us "underprivileged" underlings—on the contrary, we are carrying the bulk of the load.

In recent months we've heard a lot about "Modern Republicanism."

One wonders if this new platform of the GOP embraces as one of its planks this very "modern" policy of "Soak the Poor."

Do you know why the center suit sign on the Ace of Spades is always larger than the other aces in a deck of cards? During the eighteenth century, the English government required card manufacturers to submit the Ace of Spades to the government engraver to insure that a tax was paid. In lieu of a tax stamp, the engraver created such an elaborate center scroll that this card came to be known as "Old Frizzle."
